

Genc Burazeri, MD, MPH, PhD

Born in 1970 in Shkoder, Albania.

Graduated as a General Practitioner (1993) from the Faculty of Medicine, Tirana, Albania and received an MPH degree (2000) and subsequently a Ph.D. degree (2007) from the Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel. In 2010, awarded the academic title “professor” from Tirana University, Albania.

Since 1998, Lecturer of Epidemiology and Research Methods at Department of Public Health, Faculty of Medicine, Tirana. Also, since 2011, deputy director of the national Institute of Public Health in Albania.

During 2007-2008, Visiting Lecturer at Department of Global Health, School of Public Health and Health Services, George Washington University, Washington, DC, USA. In 2009-2010, Assistant Professor at Department of International Health, Faculty of Health, Medicine and Life Sciences, Maastricht University, the Netherlands. From 2011-ongoing, Visiting Lecturer at Maastricht University, The Netherlands.

Main expertise in Epidemiology and Quantitative Research Methodology.

Involved in several major research projects and published many original research articles in international scientific journals with high impact factor.